1.0

Support Through AAS

How to start and other important info you should know

1.1 Getting Started with AAS

What AAS actually is

AAS (Academic Accommodation Support) helps you get academic adjustments so you're not being unfairly disadvantaged. It's about making things accessible, not about making things simpler.

What the process looks like

- Register through the AAS portal
- Upload documentation (if you have it)
- Book an intake appointment
- Work with an advisor to build your plan

When should you start?

As early as possible. Ideally at the start of the semester, or even before. Accommodations are not retroactive, so if you wait until midterms hit, it can be too late for certain supports.

What it's actually like

It might feel a bit confusing at first, but the intake meeting is way more relaxed than people expect. The goal is just to talk about what you struggle with, not to "prove" anything.

Link to the official TMU AAS website: https://www.torontomu.ca/accommodations/

1.2 Length of Accommodations

| Long-term | Short-term | One-time ACR |
|---|---|---|
| Ongoing conditions, including:• ADHD, learning disabilities• Mental health (anxiety, depression)• Physical disabilities & chronic illness• Vision or hearing | Temporary or fluctuating situations:• Injury or concussion• Short-term medical issues• Illness or flare-ups• Burnout / mental health dips | This is for unexpected, one-off situations, such as:• Being sick during a midterm• A sudden personal or family emergency• One particularly overwhelming week |
| How it works:1. Register with AAS2. Get a plan3. Activate each semester | How it works:Reach out to AAS for temporary support or guidance | How it works:Usually handled through your professor or department, NOT AAS. |

More about ACR's: https://www.torontomu.ca/senate/academic_consideration_requests/

1.3 Common Misconceptions

❌ “I don’t have a diagnosis yet, so I can’t apply.”
✅ You can still start. AAS can guide you on what you need and direct you to the right people.

❌ “My situation isn’t serious enough.”
✅ If it’s affecting your academics, it’s serious.

❌ “I need everything ready before reaching out.”
✅ You don’t. Gathering documents takes time, appointments take time. Start early to avoid delays.

❌ “I’ll reach out once I’m really struggling.”
✅ This is super common, but by that point, it can be harder to set things up in time for midterms or exams. Reaching out earlier usually gives you more options, not fewer.

If you’re unsure, just ask!

AAS contact:
aasadmin@torontomu.ca

TEMPLATE:
Hi, I’m not sure if I qualify for accommodations, but I’ve been experiencing [briefly describe]. I was wondering what my options might be or how to get started.

1.4 What is “Documentation”?

1. What it is and what it’s for

Documentation is a form or letter from a healthcare professional that describes how your condition affects you at school. Rather than focusing on the diagnosis, it explains how your academics are impacted and what kind of support would help.

2. Impacts it might assess

It focuses on areas, including, but not limited to:

- meeting deadlines or managing time
- reading or writing under pressure
- focus, memory, or processing information
- physical or motor tasks (writing, sitting, mobility)
- consistency (fatigue, flare-ups, good vs bad days)
- communication and group work

NOTE: If you don’t already have documentation (within ~5 years), your provider can fill out TMU’s form: https://www.torontomu.ca/content/dam/accommodations/forms/TMU_Disability_Assessment_Form_(DAF).pdf

1.5 Where to Get Documentation

1. On Campus

TMU Medical Centre → Can assess, write documentation, or refer you to a specialist
Contact them here: health@torontomu.ca | 416-979-5070
Link: https://www.torontomu.ca/student-wellbeing/medical-centre/

2. Mental Health Support

Centre for Student Development & Counselling (CSDC) → Counselling + referrals
Contact them here: csdc@torontomu.ca | 416-979-5195
Link: https://www.torontomu.ca/student-wellbeing/counselling/

3. Community Health Centres

Sherbourne Health Centre → Link: https://sherbourne.on.ca
Anishnawbe Health Toronto (Indigenous-focused care) → Link: https://aht.ca
Planned Parenthood Toronto (mental health + referrals) → Link: https://ppt.on.ca

1.6 Accommodations & Responsibilities

Possible accommodations!

- extra time for tests and exams
- writing in the Test Centre
- extensions or deadline flexibility
- peer note-takers
- audio recording lectures
- breaks during class or exams

What you're responsible for

1. Sending your accommodation letters each semester
2. Booking tests/exams in advance
3. Activating accommodations for each course

IMPORTANT NOTES!

Accommodations are only sent to professors, not TAs

→ for labs/tutorials, you may need to reach out yourself

Some tutorial quizzes already include extra time for accessibility

→ but for anything else, you have to ask

Not all accommodations apply everywhere

→ extra time usually doesn't apply to group work

→ some assignments are already structured with long deadlines and stay strict

1.7 Contacting Professors

When you should reach out

- If a course has strict deadlines
- If you plan to audio record lectures
- If you're unsure how your accommodations apply
- If anything affects your participation or attendance

Why this matters

- Some courses have rules that don't fully align with accommodations
- Talking early helps avoid confusion later
- It shows respect and keeps communication clear

You don't have to figure out what to say

AAS provides email templates you can use or adapt to request assignment extensions, ask for permission to audio record lectures, and even offer examples of alternative evaluations you can discuss with your professor if participation or presentations are a barrier.

Link to AAS accommodations guide and email templates:
https://www.torontomu.ca/accommodations/manage/accommodation-development/

1.8 Important AAS Deadlines

Test Centre booking deadlines

Book your tests at least 7 days in advance (including weekends).

Late requests may be considered:

- Midterms/tests: up to 5 days before
- Final exams: up to 5 days after the booking deadline

After that, the system closes and you can't submit requests through the portal. Also note that late requests are NOT guaranteed so book early!

If you miss the deadline

Your options are limited to:

1. Writing the test without accommodations, or
2. Speaking to your department about alternatives, such as:
   - Academic Consideration Request (ACR)
   - An Incomplete (INC)

NOTE: These are NOT accommodations and are NOT guaranteed! Remember, book early!

2.0

Finding Your Community

Some memorable committees and student initiatives around TMU

2.1 AAS Student Advisory Committee

| Who They Are | What They Do |
| --- | --- |
| The SAC is a group of students (that's us!) who work directly with AAS to improve accessibility at TMU.It exists to make sure student voices are actually part of how AAS programs, services, and resources are designed. | • Give feedback on AAS services and policies• Help design and improve student-facing resources• Work on different subcommittee projects like:  ○ accessibility conferences  ○ peer-led support initiatives  ○ student newsletters and resource guides (like this one!)• Identify gaps in the system and suggest changes |

How to contact / get involved

- General AAS contact: aasadmin@torontomu.ca
- Some initiatives (like peer-led groups or events) are open to students without being on the committee. Find us on the @tmustudentwellbeing Instagram!

2.2 Neurodiverse Students' Association

| Who They Are | What They Do |
| --- | --- |
| The Neurodiverse Students' Association (NDSA) is a student-led group for neurodivergent students, including those with ADHD, autism, and other cognitive differences.It's for students who want something more relaxed and understanding than formal services. | • Host low-pressure social events (both online and in-person)• Create spaces that are mindful of:  ○ Overstimulation  ○ social anxiety  ○ different communication styles• Build community through shared experiences rather than formal programming. |

How to contact / get involved

- Check out their official Instagram @tmu_ndsa to learn more about their drop-in events and how to join their community!

2.3 Student Access Collective

| Who They Are | What They Do |
| --- | --- |
| The Student Access Collective (SAC) is a TMSU Equity Service Centre focused on disability advocacy, accessibility, and community at TMU.It's one of the main student-led spaces where accessibility is talked about openly rather than just handled through services. | • Run community events and drop-in spaces for students with disabilities• Work on awareness around:  ○ ableism  ○ audism  ○ sanism• Collaborate with other student groups and initiatives to push for change |

How to contact / get involved

- Instagram: @access.tmsu
- Through TMSU (Equity Service Centres)
- Events are typically open, so you don't need to "join" formally!

2.4 Peer-Led Support Group For Students with Disabilities

| Who They Are | What They Do |
| --- | --- |
| A peer-led support group run by Academic Accommodation Support (AAS) and Health Promotion Programs.It's a space where you can connect with other students who understand what navigating school with accommodations feels like. | • Offer real peer support from students with lived experience• Share tips on how to navigate AAS and accommodations• Talk through things like:  ○ burnout  ○ deadlines  ○ communicating with profs• Help you build confidence in self-advocacy |

How to contact / get involved

- Fridays, 2–3PM (Zoom, drop-in): https://torontomu.zoom.us/j/92141372138?pwd=0Dznjes119iCRdadYI06gawEQCX6Pq.1
- Questions? Email: aas.sac@torontomu.ca

2.5 Tetra TMU Chapter

| Who They Are | What They Do |
| --- | --- |
| Tetra TMU is a student-run engineering group that creates custom assistive devices for people with physical disabilities.Their team demonstrates that accessibility is something you can design and innovate; it's not simply about accommodations. | • Work on projects that create custom solutions for individuals• Design devices that: improve mobility, support daily tasks, & remove physical barriers• Collaborate across disciplines (engineering, design, health, etc.)• Host events like:  ○ accessibility-focused conferences  ○ design challenges and case competitions |

How to contact / get involved

- Check out their events and projects on their Instagram account @tetratmu!
- Email: tetraclub@torontomu.ca
- Open to students from different programs, not just engineering.

2.6 Disability Publics Lab

| Who They Are | What They Do |
| --- | --- |
| The Disability Publics Lab is part of TMU's School of Disability Studies.It brings together students, researchers, artists, and community members to explore disability as a social, cultural, and political experience, beyond just a medical one. | • Host events, talks, and workshops on disability topics• Create space for:  ○ creative expression  ○ research and discussion• Explore issues like:  ○ accessibility beyond school  ○ disability justice and rights  ○ lived experiences of disability |

How to contact / get involved

3.3 Accessible Format Requests

What they can do for you

If your course materials aren't accessible, you can request the library to convert them into formats that work for you. This is done through AAS + the TMU Library.

What you can request

1. PDFs converted to Word or MP3 (audio)
2. Text converted to Braille
3. Scanned copies of textbooks or readings
4. Accessible versions of course readers

Important Timelines to Keep in Mind!

- Ordering textbooks from publishers in PDF/Word: up to 4 weeks
- Scanning textbooks/readings: ~1 week
- Converting PDF → Word or MP3: 1–3 weeks
- Converting PDF → Braille: up to 1 month
- Course readers: 2–3 weeks

Link to request form:
https://library.cf.torontomu.ca/forms/accessform/

For more info, check out the AAS website:
https://www.torontomu.ca/accommodations/manage/accessformat/

3.4 TMU Library Support

| Supports Offered | Description |
|---|---|
| Research help (in person or online) | • Help finding sources, narrowing your topic, and figuring out where to start• You can also bring an assignment and they'll walk through it with you (Mon-Fri: 10AM–5PM) |
| Ask a librarian (chat/email) | • Quick remote support when you're stuck (finding sources, citations, etc.)• No appointment needed, you can ask simple or last-minute questions (Mon–Thurs: 10AM–10:PM; Fri: 10AM–5PM; Sat–Sun: 12PM–6PM) |
| Workshops & guides | • Sessions on research, citations, and academic writing• Also includes online guides so you can follow at your own pace |

4.0

Financial Supports

A guide to OSAP disability grants, bursaries, and emergency financial supports

4.1 OSAP Disability Grant

What it is

If you identify as a student with a disability on OSAP, you can access extra grants and more flexible course load rules.

Once, approved, this is usually a one-time process unless your status changes.

What you have to do

- Select "yes" to disability on your OSAP application
- Download the Disability Verification Form
- Have a healthcare provider complete and sign it (do it along with your TMU AAS form!)
- Upload to your OSAP portal and wait for verification, your funds will then be updated

NOTE ON COURSE LOAD!

- With OSAP disability status, you're still considered full time at 40% course-load
- That can mean ~3 courses instead of 4-5

Link to OSAP Disability Verification form:
https://osap.gov.on.ca/prdosapconsum/groups/forms/documents/forms/pocont1_095885.pdf

4.2 Bursary for Students with Disabilities

What it is

BSWD is a Bursary through OSAP that reimburses approved disability-related costs, meaning this is NOT a fixed funding that you get upfront!

- To be eligible, you must have a disability status on OSAP and be registered with AAS.

| What You Can Use It For | How To Apply/Access It |
|---|---|
| • Assistive tech (speech-to-text, etc.)• Academic support (tutoring)• Equipment (ergonomic, mobility)• Accessibility tools (note-taking, software) | 1. Complete the BSWD application2. Submit it to your AAS facilitator3. AAS will review and submit to TMU's Student Financial Assistance (SFA) Office4. SFA will process it and contact you with: approval status and how to access funds |

Link to BSWD Application Process site:
https://www.torontomu.ca/accommodations/programs/financial-support1/app_process/

4.3 Available TMU Financial Support

What exists

- Bursaries & scholarships (through AwardSpring)
  - includes general, program-specific, and disability-related awards
- Student Access Guarantee (SAG)
  - additional funding if OSAP doesn't fully cover your educational costs
  - No need to apply; if you are eligible, you will be automatically paid to your bank account or TMU balance

How to apply/access

1. Create an AwardSpring profile (TMU's funding portal)
2. Complete your application and update it each year
3. You'll be matched with awards you're eligible for

NOTE, it's still your responsibility to:

- check each award requirements
- submit any additional documents (e.g., financial info, personal statements, etc.)

Link to access the TMU Adwardspring portal: https://torontomu.awardspring.ca

4.4 SFA Emergency Bursary

What it is

A one-time bursary for students facing a sudden, unexpected financial emergency that is affecting their ability to stay in school.

What it can help cover

- urgent tuition or residence costs
- commuting expenses
- medical expenses or medication
- emergency situations (e.g., family loss, crisis)

What it will NOT cover

- debt (credit cards, loans, etc.)
- future or “anticipated” financial stress
- general budgeting issues
- non-essential expenses (clothing, travel, etc.)

Important things to know!

You’ll need to apply through AwardSpring with a short explanation and supporting documents. You’re expected to have explored other funding (like OSAP) first. Applications are typically reviewed within a few days and only accepted Fall/Winter.

4.5 TMU Commuter Hostel

What it is

A short-term, on-campus stay option for TMU students who can't easily commute. Instead of paying for a hotel or last-minute transportation, you can stay on campus at a lower cost in a safe, accessible space.

When this can help

- early morning exams
- Late night projects
- long or inaccessible commutes
- inclement weather (snow, transit delays, etc.)
- back-to-back exams

How to access it

- Book in advance through the TMU Housing website
- Cost: $35 for one person, $45 for two
- Length of stay: short-term only (up to 3 nights at a time, for a maximum of 9 nights a month)
- Availability: limited, especially during exams

You must be a TMU student with a Onecard to check in.

Link to the official Commuter Hostel site and booking request form:
https://www.torontomu.ca/housing/housing-alternatives/off-campus/commuter-hostel/

4.6 Emergency Support Near TMU

1. On Campus

1. Good Food Centre (TMSU) → Free groceries and essentials for TMU students
   Contact them here: @gfc.tmsu | foodcentre@yourtmsu.ca | 416-979-5000
2. Free Food Locator (TMU) → Find free food from campus events
   Submit this form to join to their Discord:
   https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdBgHMDhDDSaveZ-Nq3akm6l9aasKT3AFb7LAyKjGEFwoNyjQ/viewform

2. Non-TMU support (near campus)

1. Covenant House → Emergency shelter, meals, and support for youth (ages 16–24)
   Contact them here: https://covenanthouse.org | 416-593-4849
2. Planned Parenthood → Mental health support, sexual health services, + crisis referrals
   Contact them here: https://ppt.on.ca | 416-961-0113
3. Toronto Warming Centres → Shelter, meals, and basic needs during extreme weather

5.0

Advocating for Yourself

Your rights, your voice, and the resources you need to be heard

5.1 Understanding Your Rights

What this means

As a TMU student, you have the right to an accessible education and fair treatment through your accommodations. Beyond a matter of respect and equity, it's a part of formal university policy.

What you're entitled to

1. Having your accommodations respected
2. A fair opportunity to meet course requirements
3. An accessible learning environment free from discrimination

If something doesn't feel right

- You can ask questions and request clarification
- You can follow up if accommodations aren't being implemented correctly
- You can escalate concerns if needed

WHERE THIS COMES FROM:
TMU Senate Policy 159 (Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities)

Link:
https://www.torontomu.ca/senate/policies/academic-accommodation-of-students-with-disabilities-policy-159/

5.2 Contacting Professors (Expanded)

Best communication approach

Email is your best option for anything related to accommodations. It gives you a clear record of what was said and helps avoid confusion later on. In-person conversations work as well, but it's a good idea to follow up with a quick email so everything is documented.

It also gives both you and your professor time to:

- understand what's being asked
- respond clearly
- refer back to the conversation

Always CC your facilitator

Always include your facilitator on accommodation-related emails. They won't step in right away or monitor everything, but they can see the conversation and help out if needed.

Your facilitator can reach out directly to your professor and help resolve the situation if there's:

- confusion about how an accommodation applies
- delays in responses
- disagreement or pushback

5.3 Advocacy Support Beyond AAS

1. Human Rights Services (TMU)

Handles concerns related to discrimination, harassment, or accessibility violations.
Contact them here: humanrights@torontomu.ca | 416-979-5349

2. TMAPS Student Rights Support

Helps you understand your rights and figure out your next steps.
Contact them here: studentrights@tmaps.ca | 416-979-5000, ext. 1-557056
Link: https://tmaps.ca/academic/

3. Office of the Ombudsperson (TMU)

Provides independent, confidential support for resolving disputes with the university.
Contact them here: ombuds@torontomu.ca | 416-979-5000, ext. 1- 557450
Link: https://www.torontomu.ca/ombudsperson/about/

5.4 Additional Crisis Contacts

9-8-8 Suicide Crisis Helpline

24/7 support for anyone in crisis or distress → Call or text: 988 | Link: https://988.ca

Distress Centres of Greater Toronto

24/7 emotional support, crisis intervention, and suicide prevention → Call: 416-408-HELP (4357) | Link: https://www.dcogt.com
